called on to do so. On Tuesday the House will enter on the two weeks' debate of the bill to repeal the federal election law. The debate will run according to the special order adopted on Friday throughout this week and next, and until Tuesday, Oct. 9, of the week following. Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, will have charge of the debate on the Democratic side. The debate will be of an exstruction period will be looked over again, and Tammany and John I. Davenport will cut a prominent figure. On the opposition to the bill Mr. Dolliver, of Iowa, will have the opening, followed by Mr. Johnson, of Indiana. Both of these are comparatively young men and members, but they are the most aggressive political debaters on the Republican side, and it is expected that much vigor will mark their speeches. They are loading themselves with extracts from they will use to demonstrate the necessity for the continuance of the election law on the statute books, and if the voting stage be reached a redhot political debate will doubtless be raging.

There are several bills on the calendar which may occupy the llouse in the morning hour each day prior to the election bill debate. Among these are the bills reported by Mr. Oates from the committee on judiciary to repeal a portion of the laws covered by the Tucker bill, and which, in a general way, may be said to represent the views of the conservative members of the majority. They believe that certain provisions sought to be repealed by the advocates of the Tucker bill, should remain in force, but they will doubtless vote for that measure, although preferring the Oates bill. However, the consideration of any other than the bill set forth in the pending order will be desultory, and final action is not anticipated on any one of importance until the election repeal bill is out of the

Some of the Democratic members, led by Col. John R. Fellows, the Tammany orator, of New York, who hold chairmanships of the less important committees which were deprived of clerks by the "economists" and "reformers," are arranging a surprise to meet the economical platform. Most of those who supported the report which deprived these committees of clerks came from localities at some distance from Washington, and the members above aliaded to propose to test the sincerity of their professions. They fought the proposition to equip some of the committees of the House with clerks on the ground that the committees did no work, and that the House had long enough tolerated the abuse of providing a host of clerks who did nothing except draw their salaries. The members who were thus cut off from what they consider to be the legitimate perquisites of their positions, now propose to retaliate by moving against the foundations of what they term the "reformers." They intend to offer a bill or resolution to abolish, or at least cut down the mileage allowance of members. Under the present law the members from the extreme West and Southwest receive from $600 to $1,500 per annum in mileage, the amount being reckoned at the rate of 20 cents per mile for each mile traveled to and from Washington. To the Eastern members this allowance amounts to a comparatively small sum, but to those who are obliged to travel from two thousand to three thousand miles, it is an item of some consequence. It is a fact that the mileage allowance is six or seven times as much as the actual cost of travel. It was fixed in the old days when railroad fares in the West ranged from 10 to 30 cents a mile, and when, in some cases, members were obliged to travel long distances by stage. Now that railroad fares are universally 3 cents or under, the mileage allowance gives the members who have to come long distances a big margin. The reduction or abolition of the mileage allowance would not affect Eastern members to any great extent, and now they propose to see in a practical way whether those who have been conspicuous in cutting off the clerks will voto to reduce mileage.

General News.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.-United States Attorney Burke spent an exceedingly quiet Sunday in Washington. He remained about the Riggs, seeing only a few friends. He expects Representative Jason Brown to return to the city from the world's fair to-morrow, and together they will attend to some business in the executive departments. Mr. Burke will make a social call on Controller Eckels to-morrow, and will look after some official business at the Department of Justice. He expects to leave Washington for Indianapolis on Wednes-

Representative Johnson, of the Sixth district, is preparing a speech against the bill repealing the federal election laws, which he will deliver in the House this week. He has given the subject deep study, and his speech will no doubt be a thorough one. The bill will pass the House, but is in all probability destined to defeat in the Senate, where the Republicans promise to prevent a vote on the

A WANTON MURDER.

Constable's Son Near Casey, Ill., Stabs One to Death and Injures Others.

Casey, Ill., Sept. 25 .- Reports were received here this morning of a horrible cutting affray and murder that occurred at 11 c'clock last night at a country dance held at the farm house of Mass Fritts, one and a quarter miles west of Union Center, a small town seven miles northwest of this place. A young farmer, George McMechan, received fatal wounds from a dirk in the hands of Charles Carpenter, a son of Constable Carpenter, of Union Center. McMechan has since died, and another man named Berry, of Janesville, and two others, whose names could not be learned at present, probably received fatal wounds. Seemingly great preparations had been made for the dance, as the country was filled with transient young men who were cutting broom, invitations being extended to all the young folks far and

Two young men, Bert Maggard and Thomas Jenkins, became involved in a fistic encounter. Maggard, receiving the worst of it, proceeded to a well to wash his face, being followed by McMechan. who was going to assist him, when Carpenter came up, saying to McMechan: "If you wash his face I will kill you." McMechan, regarding it as an idle threat. commenced washing Maggard's face, both being in a stooping position, when Carpenter stabbed McMechan five times in the small of the back and again in the temple. Berry and others came to the assistance of McMechan, when Berry received three gashes in the back and the others got slight wounds. Berry at this hour, is in a precarious condition and breathing through his wounds. Carpenter made his escape, walking to this place, and was supposed to be seen boarding an east-bound Vandalia freight train. He has been traced to Terre Haute, where all trace of bim was lost.

Blevelist Wood Fell Delirious.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25,-The attempt of John C. Wood, of the Washington Cycle Club, of this city, to lower the record of 280 miles on the road in twenty-fours may result fatally. Wood started yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He had covered 2.0 miles in twenty-one hours when, overcome by heat and exertion, he became debrions and fell from his wheel. He is in a critical condition.

One of the Valparaiso Robbers Had a Sweetheart in Edinburg.

Two Boys Killed at a Marion Crossing-Deacons Ordained by Bishop Warren - Other State News.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 24.-It is firmly believed here that the wounded robber now in jail is Claire Robinson, and is a brother of the dead man, Frank Robinson, and not Clairs Moody, as given by him last night, and the name under which he went. Frank Robinson entered the Normal School Nov. 8, 1892, registered from Cincinnati, and left in June last, returning about three weeks ago. Claire came here a few days ago and mquired for Frank. and roomed with him. Last night he said that Frank told him if anything happened to send word to his father, but not to let his mother know. He told the sheriff to telegraph to Dr. Robinson at Versailles, or he could be found on Seventh street, Cincinnati. An examination of the trunks was made to-day. The papers and letters found in Moody's trunk show that his name is Robinson and that he has been employed by A. J. Conroy & Co., 223 and 225 West Fourth street, Cincinnati, and also acted as agent for W. B. Lamboon, of Fort Wayne, selling Southern newspapers of recent date, which | goods on the installment plan. A number of receipts and collection reports were among the papers from the above firms. A letter was found in his pocket dated Chicago, Sept. 24, and written to his sister, but not addressed, which says: "Brother Frank is doing well in his work. Speak a good word for him to Kate." To-day a letter was received at the jail from a young lady at Edinburg, Ind., addressed to Claire Robinson and signed "Kate." One of the cards found in his trunk was | Searching Party to Avenge the Wratten addressed "C. E. Robinson, Edinburg, Ind. which had been forwarded to Versailles. In an interview to-day the wounded robber said he would not reveal anything concerning himself, as it would probably all come out. He said they expected to get $40,000, as he had estimated the number of students entered and the amount or tuition paid, and supposed that Messrs. Brown and Kinsey kept all the money in the safe. In a valise was found a pair of shoes with the sole removed. A piece of heavy black crape used for a mask and some empty shot bags were found on the body of the dead man, which his companion said were to carry the money. A great many articles were found which had been stolen from other students. Among them a woman's cloak and several suits of underwear. They are supposed to be part of the same gang who have been operating here for some time, one of whom, a young man named Webster, of Chicago, was sent to the penitentiary last term of court. Webster told the sheriff that there were others here who were worse than he; that they would make a great haul in a short time. Last night Professor Kinsey telegraphed to officers at Versailles, and tonight an answer was received saying: "Have body embalmed; will come," and

Henry Frank and a Companion Cut to Pieces by the Cars at Marion.

Special to the Indiapapolis Journal. Marion, Ind., Sept. 24 .- Coan Keller, the son of a prominent furniture manufacturer here, and Henry Frank, the son of a prominent furniture dealer, formerly of Indianapolis, driving in a buggy, were struck by the fast east-bound train on the Panhandle this afternoon and fatally injured. The former died within half an hour and the latter in about two hours after the accident. They were both about sixteen years old. The crossing where the accident occurred is the one at which Miss Ihrig was killed and Mrs. Heath severely injured just eight weeks r.go. At this crossing is a deep out in the street and heavy grade in the track. Trains run at terrific speed and cannot be seen for some distance from the crossing. Young Keller bad one leg broken in two places and the skull crushed, besides other injuries. He was thrown forty feet from the track. Frank had both legs broken in two places, one arm broken in two places and the skull crushed. He was thrown eighty feet. The buggy was demolished and the harness stripped from the horse. Mrs. Keller, the mother of one of the boys, is at Columbia City, at the bedside of her mother, whose recovery is in doubt.

ORDAINED AS DEACONS.

Impressive Ceremony Performed at Connersville by Bishop Warren.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CONNERSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 24.-At 8:30 this morning the congregation began to assemble in the epacious auditorium of the Methodist Church, and an hour later almost every available space was occupied. The first service was the annual conference love feast. The venerable Dr. Hester conducted the meeting. At its close Bishop Warren performed the solemn and impressive ceremony of ordination of deacons. The ritualistic service was impressive, and as the Bishop laid his hands on the heads of E. P. Jewett, J. P. Jones, J. W. Johnson, C. E. Mead, Merrit Machlan, W. S. Smith and said: "Take thou authority to execute the office of deacon in the church of God, in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost," an air of solemnity filled the entire sanctuary. These men then placed their bands on the pages of the open Bible and the Bishop said: "Take thou authority to read the Holy Scriptures in the church of God and to preach the same."

At 10:30, the time for the morning service, the church was thronged, and Bishop Warren entered the pulpit and announced the opening hymn, "Arise, my Soul Arise." The Bishop conducted the entire service. He chose his text from the third chapter of Paul's letter to the Ephesians, using the fourteenth to twenty-fourth verses, inclusive. The Bishop, after a masterful introduction. entered upon the delivery of a sermon of unusual power, to which the audience listened with intense interest. The ordination of elders took place this afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The church was again filled with worshippers, and the fol-lowing named persons were ordained elders: E. B. Yoeman, E. L. Wimmer, W. J. Stewart, W. O. Wykott, G. M. Smith, G. H. Marphy, H. O. Frazier, A. R. Beach. The bishop was assisted in the laying on of hands by Dr. C. A. Van Anda, of Indian-

BIG TROTTING MEETING.

With Good Weather Many Records Will Be Smashed at Terre Haute.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 24.-With weather conditions favorable the ensuing week's trotting meeting may be even more remarkable than the one of a year ago, when every event was a record-breaker. The big card of the week is Nancy Hanks's go against her own record, made here last fall. Mr. Doble and his assistants are confident she will do the trick, and hope for the 2:00 mark. She is going faster than a year ago, when she went in 2:04, and the track has been made faster, not less than a second, in one particular, by cutting down a hill. Besides, there has been a general improvement, and Superintendent Jeffers, whose superior ability in caring for a track is vouched for by all the experienced drivers, ease it could not now be improved on. Inquiries for accommodations show that the crowds are coming from far and near. The offer of $20,000 in stake and class events brings together all the sansational performers of the year. Stamboul will be sent to lower the stallion record of 2.0612; Arion, who holds the two and three-yearold records, will trot against the world's 2:06% stallion record, and Belle Vera, 2:08%, will try to beat Nancy's 2:04. On Thursday John Dickerson drove the $125,000 colt. Arion, a half in 1:021/2. Mr. Doble and his stable came to this city a week ago, and men and horses have taken advantage of a week's respite from traveling to get ready for the week's work.

THE MURDERERS ESCAPED. Butchery Returns Emptyhanded.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Ind., Sept. 24.—The searching party in the Wratten murder case returned to the city last night, but arrested no one. The murderers suspected in the thicket escaped in some manner not known. It is said a man by the name of Lon Williams had carried food to them. but on close inquiry nothing could be found that would implicate him. The search has been kept up all day, but nothing new has developed. The excitement in this city is intense, as crowds can be seen on the streets day and night discussing the

$2,500 for a Woman's Heart.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 21.—By a decision rendered in the Appellate Court Saturday Hal P. Hughes, of this city, finds that he is required to pay Miss Annie Noltie the sum of $2,500 and all cost of the action brought by her on account of having secured her consent to marry him and then, without cause, turned his back on her and sought the hand of another. These young people moved in the best society here, and matrimonial relations went so far as to cause the plaintiff in the action to make all necessary preparations for the marriage, even to securing the services of a minister to perform the ceremony, when Hughes suddenly changed his mind. He refused to give any reason for his fickleness. On the trial he claimed that he never was in earnest, and treated the affair with much indifference, and a jury rendered a verdict in Miss Noltie's favor for the above amount. Hughes then appealed and the court above

PERU, Ind., Sept. 24.—The double funeral to-day from the Baptist Church of Willie Hoskins and Harry French, London bellringers, who died from injuries received in the Wabash railway wreck, was a pathetic affair. It was attended by a large concourse of people. Hoskins died at the hospital last night and French was brought from the wreck on the noon train. John Barber, fireman of the freight train, was brought to the hospital and is in a critical condition. All others in the hospital, with the exception of Willie Evans, of London, Simon Canfield and wife, of Ironwood, Mich., Mrs. E. Hill, of Somerville, N. Y. and the ten-year-old child of H. She consulted a physician there and he advised her that her child was able to return here and gave her some medicine to quiet it on its homeward journey. Mrs. Daum arrived here late in the evening and went to the home of her sister in this city. At that place she gave the little one another dose of the medicine and it soon after died. The coroner was notified and took possession of the child's remains and will push the inquiry regarding its death.

Kokomo Criminals Try to Break Jath.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Кокомо, Ind., Sept. 24.—A bold but unsuccessful attempt at jail delivery was made here last night. Confined in jail is Cal Armstrong, Tipton county's defaulting deputy treasurer, and Miss Viola Dietrich. the girl outlaw who last Sunday night led a gang that footpadded four prominent Kokomo citizens. Five others were in for highway robbery, two for murderous assault and six for burglary, fifteen in all. With saws made by hacking the blades of table knives they out through the bars and were about ready to leave the jail when the action was discovered. Carriages were in waiting to whirl the prisoners away had not the scheme been frustrated. Armstrong had no part in the attempted break for liberty.

Gang of Robbers Run In.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Кокомо, Ind., Sept. 24.—Sheriff Simmons to-day succeeded in rounding up one of the most daring and successful gangs of burglars that ever infested this vicinity. They are Leonard Leach, George Robinson, John Yoder and Herbert and Charles Weisner, all living in the vicinity of Cassville. Stores, farm houses, granaries and meat houses by the score were burglarized the past few weeks and the neighborhood was in a state of terror caused by the daring lawiessness.

MAD IN THE FERRIS WHEEL.

Exciting Experience of a Party of World's Fair Visitors Saturday.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24 .- A drizzling rain, which fell the greater part of the day, kept people from the fair to-day. The usual Sunday crowd did not venture out, and the attendance was even smaller than usual. Commencing to-morrow, an interesting programme for the week will be begun. Tomorrow was set down as Christian Endeavor day, but inasmuch as the fair has been kept open on Sundays the officers of the society refused to celebrate. There will, nowever, be a number of popular entertainments, and the crowd will find sufficient of interest to keep it occupied. The feature will be a grand illumination of Wooded Island at 8 P. M. Paid admissions at the World's fair to-day were 26,106. Total attendance during last week, 1,133,452. The guard in one of the cars of the Ferris wheel at the world's fair had an exciting expericence yesterday, as did also Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wherritt, of Covington, Ky. Mr. Wherritt, it seems, is strangely affected when he ascends to great heights, but his wife, who had been up in the wheel, said that she had no idea that it would atfeet him. Yesterday afternoon they started up together, and when the car was at the upper turn, 3.0 feet from the ground, Mr. Wherret gave a scream and tried to ash through one of the windows. He seized one of the iron bars with which they are guarded and tried to bend it. The guard and some of the gentlemen in the car grappled with him and a furious struggle followed, the women in the car screaming and rushing frantically from side to side to avoid the struggling men. The glass in the windows was broken, and Mr. Wherritt continued unmanageable until the car reached the lower turn, when he began to calm down, and shortly after being removed from the car came to his senses again.

Liberty Herald. The Indiana schoolbook law is a "fake and a fraud," to state the matter in plain terms and in accordance with the facts. The books that are furnished are of a very inferior character, as a rule, and the use of mon schools to the rear in the educational procession. The general plan of the law had some commendable features, but the manner in which it is being worked out is a disappointment and source of chagrin to every person interested in good schools for Indiana. Quality is sacrificed to cheapness. Another thing is the great difficulty experienced each year in obtaining the books from the book company. There is a complicated system of red tape in connection with orders for books, with much annoyance and vexations delay before the books can be secured. Any other books except the Indiana series can be had on twentyfour bours' notice. The schools of Union county were delayed last year and this by this miserable book system.

LONDON, Sept. 24. - The Saltan of Jehere, against whom a pretty British girl has brought suit for $50,000 damages, claiming a promise to marry, sailed for Singapore from Brindisi to-day. The Sultan's departure has revived interest in the interesting suit to which he is a party. The facts are about as follows: Miss Jennie Mighell, a young lady with a good position in society, gifted with accomplishments of a high order and of attractive appearance, seeks for damages from the Sultan of Jehore for breach of promise, and also asks for the return of a diamond buckle. Miss Mighell resides at 20 Devonshire place, Brighton, and when introduced to his Highness, the Sultan of the State and Territory of Jehore, she was not aware of the majesty of his position, but subsequently his true position was communicated to her. The story of the wooing should prove interesting, but, for the moment, that interest must be deferred. The Sultan of Jehore 18 well known in this country, and for some time past has resided at Comberwood, Bonchurch, Isle of Wight. His Highness has been conspicuous by his show of diamonds, and handsome presents at most of the state fairs which have recently been taking plack here. The state of Jehore occupies the south part of the Malay peninsula, and is one of the most prosperous in the East. It is traversed by a railway, and exports a large quantity of the finest timber. The Sultan of Jehore's solicitors accepted service of the writ, which was issued on Aug. 24, 1893. The defendant, as already stated, is at the present time a reigning monarch, and in consequence he might be able to raise a plea of personal privilege exempting him from the jurisdiction of the courts.

THE POUSALK FOUNDERED. Russia Loses One of Her Old Ironclads with All on Board.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 24.-Fragments of wood work, coats and other wreckage have floated ashore in the Gulf of Finland, showing that the Russian warship Pousalk. with ten officers and 150 seamen, has foundered and that all hands are lost. The Pousalk sailed on Tuesday from Revel, in the Gulf of Finland, for Heslingfors, in the same gulf, and has not been heard from since. The Poussik had four and a half inches of armour, carried four nine-inch guns, was of 2,000 tons displacement, had 786 indicated horsepower, was classed as having a speed of eighteen knots. She was built in 1867. The body of a sailor, supposed to have belonged to the crew, has been washed ashore in the Gulf of Finland, and it is known that severe gales swept over those waters soon after she left port. Change in the Russian Succession.

NEW YORK, Sapt. 24.—The Herald's Berlin cable says: It is rumored here that the Czar of Russia will alter the succession to the throne, making the Grand Duke Michael, his youngest son, his successor. It is supposed that the reason for this step is that the Czarowitch is of so sulky a nature and is totally without force of character. Besides this, he has extremely radical opinions, opposed to the persecution of the Jews and in many other ways is not in accord with his father. The Grand Dake George, the Czar's second son, cares little for political life. He is a jolly sailor and a careless liver. The Czar's affections are centered in the precocious Michael.

"I rarely have a chance to wear all my jewelry. Saturday is the only night I don't sing, excepting Sunday, of course. I am going to dine with some old friends on Commonwealth avenue, and so I have a few of my favorite gems on," and the prima donna pointed with pride to the gifts of the crowned heads of Europe.

On her left shoulder she wore a diamond lizard about five inches in length, with head composed of one turquoise encircled with fine diamonds, the gift of the Emperor of Russia, and on her head a coronet of the same sparkling jewels, with huge pearls forming spikes, the gift of the people of the Czar's dominion.

The left shoulder of her corsage was fastened with a pin of diamonds and turquoises from the Empress of Germany, and in her hand she carried an exquisite fan of thread lace, with ca. ved sticks of mother of pearl in wrought with gold and containing the monogram of the Russian Empress, who was an intense admirer of the prime donna. She also wore Italian, Russian, Dutch and Grecian jeweled badges of honor, and two Turkish royal decorations. The "chefakat" was another decoration, and who could feel otherwise than honored, since this gift, reserved for embassadors' wives, has never been conferred upon any artist save Mme. Mapleson. Lady Randolph Churchill and Mrs. S. S. Cox, widow of the late American minister to Turkey, also possess the jewel. Young Marguerite of Italy presented her a medallion ring of diamonds and rubies, and the bewitching soprano was ablaze with high jewels, which were testimonials of her high abilities and personal charms from Europe's kings and queens. Opening a little carved sandal-wood box. Laura Mapleson displayed a quentity of uncut rubies, supphires and other precious gems. "I intend keeping these for my little girl," said the fair singer. "I bought these gems in various parts of the world. some I got in Greece, others in Turkey and "When I visited Asia Minor I collected no end of curious stones. Here is a curiosity I got in Cairo," said Laura Mapleson, unwrapping a piece of silk and exhibiting a perfectly modeled figure of a woman in ancient eastern costume with an infant in her arms.

"I his is centuries old, and was found round the neck of an Egyptian mummy. "Professor Doremus, of New York, said it was the tipest specimen of ancient modeling he had ever seen, being carved out of one huge turquoise."

And They Won't Tell. New York Commercial Advertiser.

There is a difference of $10,000 in the estimate of the Sun and World as to the amount of money J. J. Van Alen paid for his appointment to Italy. It is likely that Messrs. Van Alen, Whitney and Cleveland are the only persons who know exactly what Mr. Van Alen did pay.

St. Mary's Hall school, Central avenue and Seventh street, will open to-morrow morning, with increased attendance.
